

Jane is an award winning nature photographer, author for Visual Wilderness and international trip leader for NaturesLens. She has extensive experience teaching landscape and underwater photography and enjoys helping photographers find their creative voice. She is often a presenter at the Missouri Nature and Environmental Photographers meetings at Powder Valley. Jane brings her strong technical knowledge of photography to teaching but is especially keen to share her expertise on developing creatively. You can check out her work on her website: Janepalmerphotography.com